COSSACK CHIEF IN TROUBLE IN NEW YORK CITY

Trading Company Seeks to Collect Judgment Awarded as Result in Raids in Eastern Siberia

HELD PERSONALLY RESPONSIBLE FOR GOODS TAKEN BY HIS ARMY

Semenoff Branded as Plain "Bandit" in Affidavit of Allied Commissioner

NEW YORK.—General Gregorie Semenoff, "Ataman of the South Russian Cossacks," denied Friday before a referee in bankruptcy court that he had ever seized property belonging to the Yonoveta Home and Foreign Trading company, a bankrupt Russian company, which caused his arrest here last night. He said that if the company ever lost any supplies through Cossack raids he knew nothing of it himself because while he was the commanding officer, he could not be held directly responsible for what his men did.

NEW YORK.—Gen. Gregorie Semenoff, leader of Russian Cossacks Friday evening in one of this city's streets, where it seemed for several hours that he would be the city's guest. He was arrested at the instance of the receiver of an American company trading in Russia, who thus sought to enforce the payment of a judgment of $375,000 entered against him in Harbin, Manchuria, last December.

Freed on Bail

Semenoff, whose favorite title is "Ataman of the Cossacks," was permitted to go to the Waldorf, where he secured $25,000 bail.

Claims upon which the judgment in the case was rendered alleged that Semenoff and his forces plundered in 1919 at Chita, stores belonging to the Yonoveta Home and Foreign Trading company, a New York corporation. It was contended during the trial at Harbin that Semenoff had not been recognized by any government and that, therefore, he was personally responsible for the property seized. The general claimed that he was aided by the allies and that he was a commander of All-Russian forces in Eastern Siberia.

Acted as Bandit Claim

A part of the case built up against him consists of affidavits alleging that Semenoff acted merely as a bandit, with an army to enforce his brigandage. One of the signers of such an affidavit is Brig. Gen. W. S. Graves, A. E. C. commander in Siberia, who adds that Semenoff's men not only looted towns, but fired on sleeping United States soldiers and killed two. To this charge Gen. Semenoff replies that he court-martialed and punished those responsible for the killing.

Another affidavit is signed by Charles H. Smith of the allied railroads, who accuses Semenoff of being the head of the All-Russian armies.

PARIS TO LONDON EXPRESS AIRPLANES COLLIDE IN FOG ALL OF OCCUPANTS KILLED

GENOA CLEANING UP IN PREPARATION FOR CONFERENCE MONDAY

GENOA.—By The Associated Press.—Turbulence is in the air everywhere along the Italian Riviera, from Genoa to Rapallo. Its odor even dominates the perfume of the spring flowers and fruit blossoms.

Genoa and its environs have been given a bath of fresh paint in preparation for the opening of the economic conference Monday. The Russian Soviet delegates got swamped with white when they entered the immaculate and freshly painted imperial palace hotel and the foreigners in all the neighboring resorts, as well as in Genoa, are hunting the dry cleaners.

Warnings of "fresh paint" printed in Italian afford little protection to the polyglot crowd assembled for the conference.

Lloyd George Party Leaves

LONDON.—By The Associated Press.—Smiling cheerfully but unable entirely to conceal his careworn expression, Premier Lloyd George headed a party, including his wife and daughter, which left Friday for Genoa, the scene of the international economic conference which opens Monday.

PILOTS SEE EACH OTHER TOO LATE TO AVOID CRASH

Accidents One of Most Remarkable Happenings in History of Aviation

PARIS.—By The Associated Press.—The Paris and London aerial express collided in mid-air Friday afternoon over the village of Teuilly, 70 miles north of Paris. The pilots of both airplanes, three passengers and one mechanic were killed in wreckage that fell flaming to the ground.

The French airplane, piloted by Aviator Mire, aided by a mechanic, was carrying three passengers. It left Le Bourget, in the environs of Paris for London. The British airplane, which left Croydon in the London area, this morning, carried mail and was manned only by a pilot. The passengers in the Paris airplane were M. Boucicaut, M. and Mme. Julien Brouil.

The British machine, piloted by Aviator Duke, had only been in use three days on the express route. It belonged to a new company operating a Paris-London service.

Crash in Fog

The accident occurred during a fog, the pilots seeing each other too late to avoid a collision.

Five persons from the machines were seen when inhabitants of the village of Teuilly arrived on the scene shortly after the crash and the sixth victim was dying.

The aerial express service between Paris and London was started in the spring of 1919 and has come to be regarded as one of the dependable means of transportation between the two capitals. At first only patronized by travelers of an adventurous turn of mind, it has developed the thrill of air travel, it has developed the thrill of the last two years with the element of danger reduced to a minimum into a steady daily routine. The run into a little more than two hours and at least half of the passengers have been women.

Government officials have frequently availed themselves of the air route to attend hastily called conferences in either Paris or London. During the peace conference Bonar Law, one of the British delegates made hurried trips back to London to attend to routine official business often returning the same day. King Albert and Queen Elizabeth of Belgium have also been passengers.

Carry Dozen Passengers

These luxurious air Padmans carry ten or twelve persons in large, comfortable chairs. Each seat has a separate port-hole through which the passenger can view the landscape.

The aerial large numbers of passengers have taken to this form of travel and round trip tickets cost about $80. Another and incidental development of the air service has been the amount of merchandise carried. Each plane has a certain carrying capacity for goods and Paris dressmakers frequently deliver gowns in London in this way.

Recently a load of prize pigs was brought from London to Paris by air express and many dogs have also made the trip.

REPUBLICAN TROOPS FORCE CUSTOM HOUSE AND DESTROY LIQUOR

DUBLIN.—By The Associated Press.—Five hundred thousand gallons of wine and whiskey were destroyed Thursday night by members of the Irish republican army, who forced their way into the bonded stores of the custom house here, it was stated officially here today by a Belfast boycott official. He estimated the revenue loss at nearly 2,000,000 pounds. A guard kept watch outside the stores while volunteers worked inside throughout the night, smashing cases and letting their contents flow promiscuously.

MAN HELD FOR JURY TAMPERING SERVED TIME IN U. S. PEN

Hockin Convicted in Connection With Indianapolis Dynamiting Conspiracy

FORMER OFFICIAL OF UNION OF BRIDGE AND IRON WORKERS

Took McNamara Place When Latter Was Sentenced

LOS ANGELES, Cal.—Herbert S. Hockin, under arrest here on a charge of having tried to influence veniremen in the second trial of Arthur C. Ruch for the murder of J. Belton Kennedy, is said by court attaches to be the same Herbert S. Hockin who with 28 other men was convicted at Indianapolis for conspiracy to ship explosives unlawfully on passenger trains several years ago.

Hockin was sentenced to serve six years in the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan., and was released in June, 1917. After completing his term, prior to 1910 he was Secretary-Treasurer of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers and lived in Detroit.

Hockin, an operative of a private detective agency employed by the district attorney's office to investigate the venire from which the jurors to hear Ruch's trial were to be selected, declined to discuss his past life. He remained in the county jail Friday trying to raise $2,000 bail which would give him freedom pending his preliminary examination April 15.

Ringleader in Dynamite Plot

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind.—Herbert S. Hockin, under arrest in Los Angeles for alleged jury tampering in the case of Arthur C. Ruch, charged with the slaying of J. Belton Kennedy, was convicted here in 1912 as one of the ringleaders in the dynamiting conspiracy, in which he and several officers of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, were sent to prison.

As a union organizer, according to the evidence presented at the trial, Hockin plotted the dynamiting work which was to be dynamited after he succeeded John McNamara as secretary and treasurer, upon McNamara's arrest for the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times building in which 23 persons were killed.

Hockin was indicted here in February, 1912 and was sentenced to serve six years in the federal prison at Leavenworth in December of that year. He served four years of his term.

According to Clarence W. Nichols, deputy district attorney at the dynamiters' trial, Hockin, although he put on the appearance that he was fighting for the union, was telling everything he knew to the district attorney who frequently referred to him in his address to the jury as the "kago of conspiracy."

DAY SHOT BECK IN DEFENSE OF HOME DECLARES ATTORNEY

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla.—County Attorney Forrest Hughes in a signed statement to newspapers Friday concerning his investigation of the slaying of Lieut. Col. Paul W. Beck by Jean P. Day, prominent local lawyer, and oil man, in the latter's home here last Tuesday, said he believed Day fired in defense of his home and not of his life, and that the X-ray photograph of the dead man's head indicated that the army officer was not looking at Day when the fatal shot was fired. Day had previously stated that when he found Beck in the act of attempting to assault Mrs. Day he struck the officer on the head with a pistol after the latter had made a motion as if to strike him with his fist.

PROSECUTION NEARS CLOSE OF REBUTTAL IN ARBUCKLE TRIAL

SAN FRANCISCO.—Closing by the prosecution of its introduction of rebuttal witnesses was expected Friday to follow closely the declaration of defense counsel Thursday that it had completed its case in the third trial of Roscoe Arbuckle on a manslaughter charge growing out of the death of Miss Virginia Rappé.

Several witnesses for the prosecution last Thursday said in a loud and intimate acquaintance with Miss Rappé they had never known her to be subject to attacks of illness such as the defense contends caused her death.

FIRE SIX SHOTS AT HUSBAND BUT MISSES WILL TRY FISTS NEXT

WATERLOO, Ia.—Neighbors who heard Alice Williams, 28, negro, fire a half dozen bullets at her husband, Isadore Williams, 25, Thursday night, called the police. They found Williams sitting on his front porch, perspiring, but unharmed. She missed him every time. Next time she will try her fists, she said.

STRIKE SITUATION DEADLOCKED

GIRL BANDITS IN DARING ROBBERY OF GALLI-CURCI $45,000 IN JEWELS TAKEN

LOS ANGELES, Calif.—Amelita Galli-Curci, Chicago Opera star, was robbed of jewelry valued at $45,000 Thursday in the Palm cafe at San Juan Capistrano.

The singer, with her husband-accompanist, Homer Samuels, had stopped for lunch at the village famous for its old Spanish mission, when two girls, who are believed to have been following her, snatched a case containing her jewels, which the maid had laid down in the women's dressing room.

The girls then fled through the restaurant and leaped into an automobile which seems to have been waiting out in front. The police of Los Angeles, San Diego, and the authorities of all towns between the two cities were given a description of the car and the two young women.

Were Gifts of Royalty

Among the jewelry were a seven-stone diamond ring and a platinum bracelet set with 100 diamonds. There were a number of other ornaments, some of them the gifts of royal families and American notables.

The prima donna emerged from the dressing room as the thieves were walking toward the door, it is said.

"Homer," she cried, "they've got my diamonds. Run after them."

She fled fainting into a chair.

Maid Was Suspicious

"I didn't like the way they crowded against me while I was washing," the maid said. "I was suspicious of them, but I did not think they meant to steal madam's jewels. In fact, I wasn't thinking of the jewels at all. And then I turned to take the bag up and it was not there."

Samuels and others tried to pick up the trail of the young women immediately. A dozen motor cars set out in pursuit. The long distance telephone was used by the diva and others. But no trace of the fugitives was found.

ARGYLE SCOTT IS APPOINTED CAPTAIN OF LOCAL BATTERY

Named Commander of Battery D to Succeed John M. Holley, Resigned

LATTER IS TRANSFERRED TO NEW CAVALRY DIVISION

Battery Built Up During Year that Holley Commanded it

First Lieut. Argyle R. Scott, has been appointed Captain of Battery D, 12th Field Artillery, by order of Adjutant General Orlando Holway, succeeding Captain John M. Holley, who resigned the command.

Marking the end of a year's service as commander of the local unit, Captain Holley forwarded his resignation to General Holway because of a press of business duties. Having completed the organization of the unit during the year, Captain Holley felt that the time was opportune to turn the command over to another.

Reluctant to accept the resignation, Adjutant General Holway transferred Captain Holley to the finance section, headquarters, 22nd cavalry division, Wisconsin National Guard, an official post which will not entail the detailed work required in the local command.

Having had three months' training in field artillery work at Fort Sill and long experience with the local command, Captain Scott is well equipped to take over the captaincy of Battery D. He has been, since its organization, keenly interested in the training of the battery.

Battery D was organized in January, 1920, and was recognized by the federal government July 8 of that year. The unit now has a full membership of 65 men.

The officers of the battery are: Captain, Argyle R. Scott; first lieutenant, George Rabb; second lieutenant, Robert Brinshaw.

The battery and other units of the 12th Field Artillery were inspected at the armory on the Mormon boulevard March 14 and 15 by Major L. C. Tallaferra and the seasonal muster took place on March 27.

In 1910 a land company was formed, out of which the La Crosse Land & Investment company was formed. The legal fight to divide the holdings of the company has been taken before the supreme court. The present action involves the disposition of stock of the face value of $4,000 issued to Mr. Newman and other stockholders, together with accretions thereon, bringing the amount to approximately $14,000.

The plaintiffs besides Mr. Sanders are J. H. Moran, Dr. Gunderson, George D. Sprain and R. E. Keston. The defendants are Mr. Newman, Charles M. Dow, Thomas McGee, Edward Lyons and others. W. H. Graves, for the plaintiffs was W. H. Graves, Chas. Day and A. W. Bullock of Chicago. For the defendants, counsel Frank Winter of La Crosse, Thomas H. Gill of Milwaukee, and Frank D. PROSPECTS OF SPEEDY PEACE DECLARED DIM

Wage Negotiations in Hard Coal Fields Will Take at Least a Month is the Estimate

SITUATION EVEN MORE GLOOMY IN THE SOFT COAL DISTRICTS

Operators Stand Pat in Refusal to Meet the Striking Miners

(By The Associated Press)

WAGE negotiations in New York cannot end the strike in the anthracite fields of Pennsylvania for at least another month and prospects of peace in the bituminous field amid through almost unanimous refusal of operators to confer with the miners in Washington on Monday.

International President Lewis of the miners' union is in New York to hasten the anthracite negotiations but the miners' scale committee and operators' committee agree that their schedule of discussions must consume another four weeks. Meanwhile the 155,000 striking anthracite miners are variously occupied—baseball, planting, tending garden or, in the case of the less fortunate, seeking temporary employment.

Operators Stand Pat

Operators of the central bituminous field stand pat in their refusal to accept the house labor committee invitation to a conference with the miners on Monday despite intimation from Attorney General Daugherty that the mine owners would face no prosecution under the antitrust laws if they again saw fit to fix wages on the basis of central field agreement.

In western Pennsylvania and West Virginia union organization work is spreading and union officials claim accession to strikers ranks of strong non-union forces. Operators reported only 15 non-union mines closed in the Kanawha region as against the Union claim of 62. Operators of the New River field of West Virginia admitted 33 of their 67 non-union mines were closed and union officials asserted all the mines were shut down.

Potomac Miners Quit Union?

Operators in the Upper Potomac region announced 250 miners there had voted to quit the union and return to work.

The Carnegie Steel company at Pittsburgh denied union claims that the United States Steel corporation mills had only a 72-hour supply of coal on hand.

However, in the Youngstown Steel district the coal strike has made itself felt by the cancellation of orders for the resumption of operations by certain idle mills.

Miners Ask for Federal Probe

WASHINGTON.—Miners' union representatives now on strike in Central Pennsylvania backed up their national officers Friday in appealing before the house labor committee to urge federal attention to the industry.

"Our belief is that an industry which gives only 100 days work a year needs a reorganization," John Brophy, president of District No. 2, United Mine Workers, testified. "To get this we must have the facts ascertained by an impartial federal commission."

Restriction of such bad practices as the opening of new mines by "shoe-string speculators" was said by Mr. Brophy to be desirable "because there are too many mines and too many miners."

Mr. Brophy took issue with T. H. Watkins, a Pennsylvania operator, who testified before the committee Thursday as to wages.

Approximately 31,000 miners in Central Pennsylvania last year earned $14.61 a week or $2 per day for the year because there was hardly two days of work a week for them," Mr. Brophy asserted.

FATHER QUESTIONED IN KANSAS MURDER CASE FOUND DEAD

CONCORDIA, Kan.—L. H. Tremblay, a farmer living near St. Joseph, this county, five of whose sons were hacked with an axe early Tuesday, resulting in the death of one of them and the probable fatal injury of three others, was found dead at the home of a neighbor early Friday. He had been staying at the home since the crime. No trace of poison was found about the room or about the body.

Experts from the state prison Thursday night put Tremblay through a severe grilling in connection with the crime.

BRITONS FIRST TO CLIMB MOUNT FUJI IN DEAD OF WINTER

Members of British Air Mission in Japan Perform Marvellous Feat

TOKIO.—Major Orde Lees, parachute expert and Antarctic explorer and Mr. H. Crisp, both of the British Air Mission in Japan are the first climbers ever to reach the summit of Mount Fuji in mid-winter.

Major Orde Lees is an experienced Alpinist but the performance was rendered remarkable owing to the fact that Mr. Crisp is a Londoner with no former experience of mountain climbing.

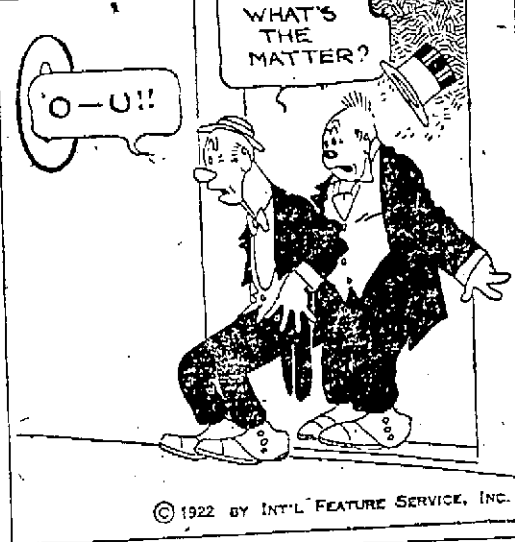

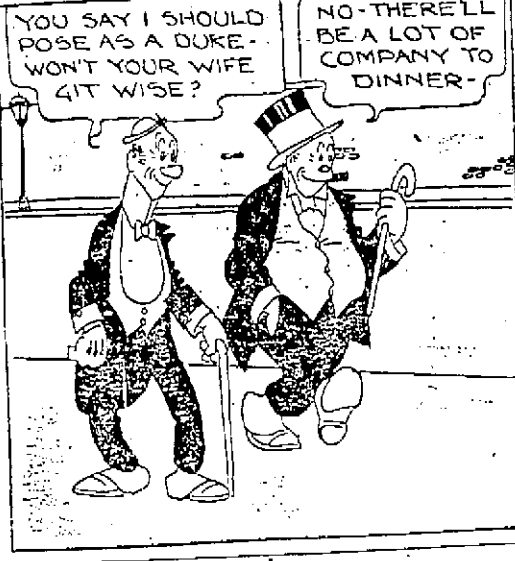

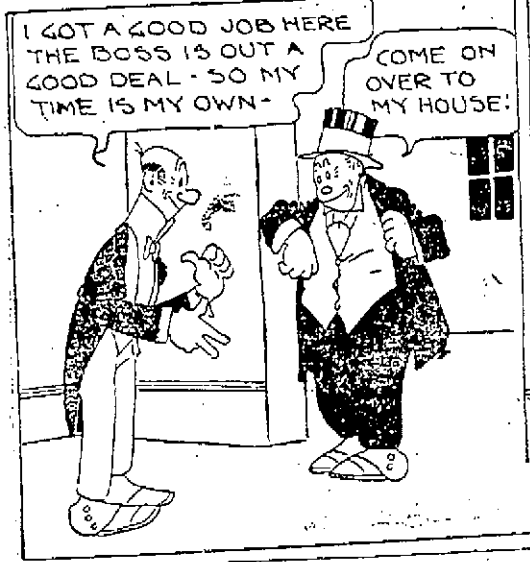

Mr. Fuji is 12,365 feet high. The climb necessitated sleeping for two nights in a hut at 4,700 feet. The snow extended from the summit down to 2,500 feet. The last 4,000 feet below the summit consisted of solid ice. This portion of the climb occupied nine hours.

The summit was reached at 7 p. m. February 12. The whole of the descent was made in a dense fog during the night. A violent storm raged all through the first night. Including rests the climb and descent occupied exactly 48 hours. A record paragraph was carried throughout the expedition.

The climbers state that the cold at the top of the mountain at night was not severe. They had the misfortune to lose their entire equipment, cameras, spare clothing, thermos flasks, snow-shoes and all their food through reaching it at a height of 10,000 feet and being unable to find it in the fog and darkness on the way down. In spite of going without food for twelve hours they arrived in splendid condition at their starting place, Gorenba.

No guides, coolies, horses or vehicles were employed other than a small sledge, made from a crashed airplane, on which the climbers pulled their equipment to the sleeping hut. Major Orde Lees and Mr. Crisp were both in the Daily Mail aeroplane when it crashed at Carlisle on flight to Scotland. Major Lees was a member of the Shackleton expedition of 1914-15 in charge of motor sledges.

BRINGING UP FATHER

GOT BACK AT "BR'ER SIMCOX"

Bishop Candler, of Atlanta, was condemning a certain theological controversy.

"Such idle controversies," he said, "remind me of a colored preacher who began a sermon with the words: 'Brother and sisters, when de fust man, Adam, was created, he was made outer wet clay and set up agin de patin's to dry.'"

"A member arose in the back of de church."

"Pawson," he said, incredulously, "does yo seriously state dat Adam was made outer wet clay and set up agin de patin's to dry?"

"Dem's mah words," Br'er Simcox said.

"Den, pawson, who made de patin's?"

"Br'er Simcox, set down," said the parson severely. "Such fool questions as yours would upset any system of theology." —Galesville Republican.

AN EASY PROBLEM

"May She Invite Him Into the House?" asks an advertisement for the Book of Etiquette, and explains the illustration thus: "They have just returned from a dance. It is rather late, but the folks are still up. Should she invite him into the house or say good night to him at the door? Should he ask permission to go into the house with her? Should she ask him to call at some other time? One answer crowds upon another's heels, so fast they follow. Well, we shouldn't take seriously the laws of etiquette laid down by anybody who, speaking of the not-yet-retired parents, says 'the folks are still up.'"

DID DR. PEEBLES KEEP PROMISE TO TALK FROM GRAVE?

Man Says He Did But Two Women Say it Was Fake

LOS ANGELES.—Has Dr. James Martin Peebles, dead spiritualist, kept the promise he made during life and spoken to his friends in the world of the living from the shadowy land beyond the grave?

Yes, asserts Dr. Guy Bogart, who says he received a message from Peebles on Peebles' one hundredth birthday.

No, say Mrs. Susie McFarlane Page, close friend of Peebles, and Mrs. Mione M. Sayres, nonprofessional medium and pastor of the Spiritualist Church of the Revelation here.

Peebles promised the two women while still living that he would come back to them after death. But, they say, he has not yet been able to return.

Died at 99

Peebles, one of America's foremost spiritualists and internationally celebrated metaphysician, died here February 15 at the age of 99.

Throughout life Peebles had been a psychic scholar, eclect and deliverer into mystic philosophies. He had been associated with Sir Oliver Lodge, Sir William Crookes, William James and William T. Stead.

Before his death Peebles promised Mrs. Page, who cared for him in his declining years, that he would manifest himself to her after death.

And he made the same pledge to Mrs. Sayres, his lifelong friend, whose church he had attended.

Two Meetings Held

So on March 25, which would have been Peebles' one hundredth birthday, the two women prepared to receive him. They held a meeting at which prominent Los Angeles psychics were present.

But the message from the dead doctor failed to appear.

At the same time Dr. Bogart, executive secretary of the Long Life League, of which Peebles had been a member, called a meeting in honor of Peebles' one hundredth birthday.

Fifty hundred attended. Many speakers lauded the deceased occultist. But no psychic manifestation was planned.

Then, Dr. Bogart says, the spirit of Herman Kuehn, dead journalist, suddenly took possession of him. Bogart is not a medium.

Gave Interview

Kuehn's spirit gave, through Dr. Bogart, what purported to be an interview with Peebles.

Peebles described the land beyond. He said it was a land luxuriant with flowers. The climate was that of southern California. When he reach-

What is Home without a Garden?

HATCHING YOUNG ONIONS FROM SETS

Young onions are a standby of almost every spring vegetable garden and there is just one way to get them early. That is to plant onion sets. While the seed onions are coming on to give a later crop of young onions and through the thinning process to give the plants room to mature the big bulbs to be stored for winter, the set onions are coming along and furnishing the tender young onions for the table.

The onion set is made for the chief purpose of producing young onions. It is better not to try to grow big onions from sets, as the set has completed most of its life work, although an abbreviated and arrested career when it is put into the ground, and nine cases out of ten if not pulled and eaten in its young and tender growth will shoot up to seed.

Onion sets are merely prematurely matured onions of any type. The crop produced in this manner: The seed is sown thickly and on poorer soil than would be used ordinarily for onion growing. The thick sowing and poor soil is used in order that they may reach the limit of their growth in the surroundings quickly. They, of course, are sown later than ordinarily. As soon as they have matured their growth they are dug and harvested, to be planted the following spring. Small sets are better than the larger ones, for the larger set the more quickly it will finish its life cycle by sending up a seed stalk which ends its edible career.

ed spirit-land, Peebles is reported to have said he found himself in a wheel chair swathed in bandages.

But Mrs. Page and Mrs. Sayres say this cannot have taken place.

Mrs. Sayres says she was in communication with Peebles March 19. He was lying on a bed of roses, she says.

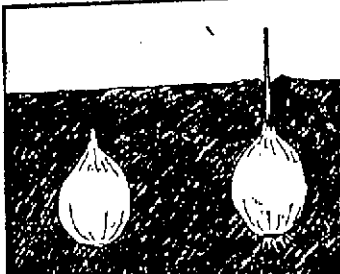

"Tell Mrs. Page I'm trying—I'm trying," Peebles said, according to Mrs. Sayres, and then faded from view.

Peebles is not yet strong enough to make himself manifest to the material world, Mrs. Sayres believes. She says the departed scholar is in relatively the same condition as a new born child unable to express himself till he matures as a spirit.

And so the controversy goes on.

The Wise Man

ONION SETS WILL SPROUT MORE QUICKLY IF PLANTED CAREFULLY IN LIGHT SOIL, JUST COVERING THE CROWN AS SHOWN.

Onion sets come in yellow, white and red, all dependent upon the variety of onion seed which was sown for the sets. The most convenient thing about onion sets for young onions is that they are not so particular about soil conditions and a gardener can harvest young onions from them long before a crop can be gathered from seed.

Growth starts almost as soon as they are planted and they can be planted an inch apart. They need only be planted deep enough so that the neck is barely covered with soil. A little deeper planting, however, gives a better length of edible white young onion.

Any variety of onion seed will produce sets, but the seed from sets is worthless and should not be harvested as it will produce inferior onions.

INDIANA BROTHERS GIVE MILLION FOR EDUCATIONAL WORK

No Time Like the Present if You're Going to Give Away
Money, Says One of Donors

MUNCIE, Ind.—If you have money to give away there is no time like the present, is the philosophy of Frank C. Ball, one of the donors of the new Muncie Normal School. His three brothers hold the same thought and a fifth brother, now dead, held that theory during his life time. The four living brothers and the estate of the other brother have just given $1,000,000 for educational and welfare work. They operate an immense fruit jar manufacturing plant here.

"We are giving this $1,000,000 because we believe it better to do such things while we are living than allow others to do it for us after we are dead," explained Frank C. Ball, who is president of the manufacturing plant. "Life at best is short and uncertain and the time for men who have it to do good with their money is when they can personally direct the use of it. Nobody has ever found a way of taking his money with him to wherever he goes after he dies. We are glad to make these gifts to these institutions and for these purposes, not because we seek appreciation but because we believe it to be a good thing to do and because of the satisfaction we receive in knowing that we may be responsible to some slight extent in aiding humanity."

The gifts were made in the names of Frank C. Ball, Edmund B. Ball, George A. Ball, Dr. Lucius L. Ball, and the estate of William C. Ball, and are to be distributed as follows:

For eastern division Indiana State Normal School, located in Muncie, $250,000 to be used for additional buildings.

For public auditorium in Muncie, $150,000.

For permanent endowment Muncie Y. M. C. A., $100,000.

To Hillsdale College, Hillsdale, Mich., an endowment, $100,000.

To James Whitcomb Riley Memorial Hospital for Children at Indianapolis, $25,000.

To Delaware county Tuberculosis Association for endowment, $25,000.
For building fund of Masonic Temple, $10,000.
For hospital extension work, Muncie, $100,000.

The remainder amounting to $140,000, is to be disposed of in ways not yet ready for announcement.

The gifts just announced are in addition to numerous other donations made to local institutions during the last several years. It is estimated that their aggregate gifts will total as much as those just announced.

Beauty Advice

By Ruth Roland

LOS ANGELES, CAL.—When Ruth Roland, the beautiful actress, was interviewed and asked if she would be willing to tell the readers of this paper how she kept her complexion so youthful and fresh looking she unhesitatingly and graciously replied, "I shall be more than delighted to do so. It is a very simple matter. First, and foremost, abundance of cream, after which I use a simple toilet preparation called Derwille. I always apply this before going out."

"Anyone can beautify their complexion if they will use these preparations Derwille and Laska cold cream. I have no difficulty in securing them at almost every toilet counter. The first application of Derwille will astonish you. It gives the skin a youthful appearance and a clear baby softness every normal woman craves. If you wish to instantly have a beautiful rose-white complexion and soft, unlined skin, try Derwille and you will be delightfully surprised. For sale at the toilet counters of all department and drug stores, including Hochschild Bros."

FORMER COMEDY STAR PLAYING ROLE OF A BROKEN OLD WOMAN

Rose Coghlan, "Lady Teazle" of the 80's, penniless, and Praying for Death to Come
ACTRESS IS OFFERED A HOME BY WOMAN IN CALIFORNIA

Alameda Resident Sends Invitation to Down-and-out Star

NEW YORK.—Rose Coghlan, adored comedy star of the '80's, has taken her first tragic role.
It is that of a broken, penniless old woman, waiting and praying in her room in the "Rising Forties" for death to come and take her from a world that has passed her by.
The "Lady Teazle," who graced the boards of Wallack's theater in the '80's and piled up success on success as the years went by, ended her last stage part—a small one—last May, when "Debut" closed.
Since then she obtained two engagements but in each case the engagements, diverging sentiment from business, came to her after a few days of rehearsal and told her she "wouldn't do."
Three weeks ago she collapsed while working over an income tax return on earnings long since consumed. And she hasn't left her rooms in West Forty-second street since.
Mrs. Richard Pluman, Rose Coghlan's only daughter, who lives with her and cares for her between rehearsals as an understudy in a Broadway production, told of her mother's plight with tears in her eyes:
"I leave the room for a few minutes," she said, "and when I come back, mother has her hands over her face and is sobbing softly. 'Oh, I want to die. I ought to be dead. Nobody in the world wants me. I ought to be out of it. I'm just a burden—just a burden.'"
"She has never been a business woman. She has been an artist—an actress. She couldn't be anything else. And when she had money, it was for everybody she knew—her friends, her family, everybody."
"Now she has nobody but me. She can have everything I've got but it isn't enough—not to take care of Rose Coghlan as Rose Coghlan ought to be taken care of in her old age. We're going to move to a cheaper apartment. She wants to sell her dresses—she costumes she wore at Lady Teazle and all the others. She actually needs little comforts of life which the price of them may bring."

Invited to California
ALAMEDA, Calif.—Rose Coghlan, adored comedy star of two decades ago, who feared that "nobody in the world wants me," because of the tragic role of poverty that fate recently has cast for her, may know now that there is a home where she is wanted in this city.

This was the message that Mrs. Tom Dolphin, Alameda, sent to Miss Coghlan Friday through the Associated Press.
"Please tell Miss Coghlan that she is wanted right here," said Mrs. Dolphin. "There is a big home here to which she is welcome and car would like to take her riding in; and she needn't sell her costumes nor bother about getting new clothes. We want her to come right away."

Mrs. Dolphin's husband, manager of an automobile repair agency, concurred in his wife's request.
Neither Mrs. Dolphin nor her husband ever saw Miss Coghlan on the stage.

BIDS ARE SOUGHT FOR BIG HIGHWAY JOBS IN FILLMORE

REDFORD, Minn.—Included in construction projects on state trunk highways, bids for which were recently called for by C. M. Babcock, state highway commissioner, are two important ones in Fillmore county. One is on Trunk Highway No. 20, between Fountain and Preston, the bid calling for six miles of grading and four bridges, the whole to cost $100,745.00. The second bid calls also for work on Trunk Highway No. 20 between Chaffield and Fountain with grading of 9.1 miles and seven bridges and to cost $111,725.00. The bids will be opened in St. Paul.

A Simple Way To Remove Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need) apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.
By morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have. You will find all itching and tingling of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

LEWIS SCORES STATEMENT OF COAL OPERATOR THAT MINERS ARE RESPONSIBLE FOR STRIKE

PENNSY MINE OWNER PUTS THE BLAME ON THE MINERS' UNION

Claims Strike Was Due to Miners' Refusal to Meet the Operators

WASHINGTON.—The coal strike as it has affected the bituminous field of Central Pennsylvania, was blamed on the miners Thursday by T. H. Watkins, spokesman for the operators' association there, who declared the break was due to the positive refusal of the miners' union to negotiate with employers. He was appearing before the house labor committee which has heard the union's national leaders declare the strike was occasioned by refusal of the operators to negotiate for a new wage contract.
Mr. Watkins said that notwithstanding the refusal of mine owners in Illinois, Ohio, Indiana and Western Pennsylvania to enter a national conference with the union, the men were "repudiating their own principles of collective bargaining and violating their own contracts by allowing themselves to negotiate with operators in districts outside the central field."

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine workers, Mr. Watkins said, "was using the smoke screen of accusation against Pittsburgh and Ohio operators, a familiar piece of union strategy" in making their refusal to meet the union, an excuse to call a national strike.
"Mr. Lewis dares to try and confuse the public," he added, charging further that the calling of a national strike over the central field was "itself a violation of contract."
Coal operators, generally, Mr. Watkins said, considered that under present conditions, "it would be financial suicide for them to enter into any agreements not based on mining and market conditions in each district." This was a stand in opposition to the union's policy of national agreements, he said, but "we in central Pennsylvania cannot longer endure the intolerable delays and alarming loss of trade which we have had to endure in waiting upon and submitting to the central field agreement."

WATKINS STATEMENTS TYPICAL OF ATTITUDE OF OPERATORS--LEWIS

Serve Only to Intensify Confusion and Bitterness Now Existing Says Union Chief

NEW YORK.—Statements defending bituminous coal operators in refusing to negotiate a central agreement with the miners' union, made by T. H. Watkins, a bituminous mine operator of Pennsylvania, before the house labor committee at Washington Thursday, were attacked here Friday by John L. Lewis, president of the United Miners. Mr. Lewis said Mr. Watkins' declarations served merely to intensify the confusion and bitterness now existing.
Mr. Lewis said:
"Statements of Mr. Watkins were characteristic and typical of a policy which he has followed for some time. He is engaged in a factional quarrel with the other operators of Central Pennsylvania, the other faction having headed by Ben Clark. The loss of tonnage of which Mr. Watkins so bitterly complains is largely due to a fierce competitive warfare with his competing rivals."

The miners' declared that Mr. Watkins for some time, "has been engaged in a frantic effort to destroy the relationship between operators and miners in central Pennsylvania. His utterances are dictated solely by his selfish personal interests."
"His testimony and his attitude are of a destructive nature and serve merely to intensify the confusion and bitterness now existing," asserted Mr. Lewis. "The reactionary attitude of such men is largely responsible for the arbitrary attitude of coal operators in refusing to meet representatives of the mine workers, and causing them to assume their indefensible policy of repudiating their contract obligations."
Mr. Lewis answered Mr. Watkins' plea for negotiation of separate wage contracts by districts when he said last night, before the central trades and labor council of Greater New York:
"It is not a far cry from separate agreements between groups of operators and district unions to the feudal system of individual contracts between operator and worker. Organized labor would then become helpless, he said, if it would have relinquished the principle upon which it was founded, 'that in union there is strength.'"

COMPLAINT ON DRY ACT VIOLATION MUST BE BASED ON FACTS

Officers Need Not Prosecute Merely on "Hearsay Evidence"

Rules State Attorney

MADISON, Wis.—Officers of the law are not "credibly formed" of a violation of the prohibition statutes unless information from a witness who knows the facts from his own knowledge and is able to testify in court, is given, and unless such information is received he is not subject to removal from office for wilful neglect, the acting district attorney of Ashland county was informed by J. E. Messerschmidt, assistant attorney general, in an opinion.
The attorney general held that the story brought to the district attorney by the president of a local association in Ashland, that she had been informed by letter that certain persons were violating the liquor laws, did not make it incumbent on him to make complaint against the persons supposed to have offended the statute. He said that his refusal to complain would not be the basis for a charge of wilful neglect against him, resulting in his removal from office.

Ruling was made, though, that the books of any drug store holding a permit to deal in intoxicating liquors are open to inspection at any time without warrant. The drug store itself may be similarly inspected without notice or warrant, according to the attorney general.

CHILDREN'S WELFARE TRUCK SOON TO BE READY FOR SERVICE

Motorized Health Center to be Put into Operation Middle of the Month

MADISON, Wis.—The Wisconsin Motorized health center, nearing completion will start its first year's operations on April 17, the state board of health announced Thursday. A specially equipped and constructed truck is to be used in the child welfare work.

Rock county is the first to be visited, because of the condition of its roads, and because of the organization work which has already been done along child health lines by welfare bodies and public health nurses.

Physical examinations will be given infants and children of pre-school age, and advice, and literature and charts to mothers. Medical help is not part of the service performed, according to the board of health.

Grant county will have the truck during May and Sheboygan county in June. Applications from other counties are being received for future visits of the health car.

RECORD OF PATIENTS IN STATE HOSPITALS CLOSED TO PUBLIC

MADISON, Wis.—Records of state hospitals are closed to the public, unless opened by consent of the patient, under a secrecy clause of the Wisconsin statutes, J. M. Messerschmidt, assistant attorney general, said Thursday in an opinion to M. J. Tappin, secretary of the state board of control.

Attorneys or other interested persons cannot legally examine records with reference to conditions of patients unless they first obtain consent of the patient, the attorney general said, at the same time saying that the "question is a pretty close one in view of the seemingly conflicting provisions in a number of statutes."

"While the question is not entirely free from doubt," Mr. Messerschmidt stated, "I have come to the conclusion that the questions should be answered in the negative and that records should not be disclosed to persons or attorneys without permission of the patient."

DISCUSS MEANS OF REMOVING DUST FROM GRAIN IN ELEVATORS

MADISON, Wis.—Suggestion that a conference of representatives of all terminal elevators in the middle west be held to consider plans for removing dust from grain as it is being taken into elevators was made Thursday by the industrial commission, in a letter to Henry Wallace, secretary of agriculture.

Dust explosions causing loss of life and property have caused the industrial commission to consider the problem of dust removal. It believes that to prevent discrimination against Wisconsin, general action should be taken by the states of the middle west.

Big Berthas. The German government says there were seven "Big Berthas" and that all have been scrapped. The general belief, however, is that they have been hidden.

TRUCKS REGISTERED ELSEWHERE SUBJECT TO WISCONSIN LAWS

MADISON, Wis.—Trucks registered in other states and operating in Wisconsin are required the same as state owned vehicles, to have the weight and carrying capacity with load marked on their side. This ruling was made by the attorney general Thursday in an opinion to L. A. Gordon, assistant secretary of state. The law makes no exceptions to non-residents, according to the opinion.

TWO MADISON BANKS ATTACH PROPERTY OF ARNOLD BOND FIRM

Petition in Bankruptcy also Filed Against Madison
Financial Institution

MADISON, Wis.—A writ of attachment against the Madison Bond company of which Victor H. Arnold is president, commanding the sheriff of Dane county to hold property of the company until demands of creditors are satisfied, was filed in Dane county circuit court Friday by R. J. Hopkins and A. O. Pannack, officials of two local banks.

Already an involuntary petition in bankruptcy has been filed in United States district court against the Madison Bond company and John S. Allen, former member of the Wisconsin railroad commission appointed receiver. Hearings will be heard on this petition in court April 15, unless affairs of the company are arranged outside of court before that time.

Mr. Arnold said that he was in communication with Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty in an effort to have warrants charging criminal conspiracy sworn out against Marshall Conzies, commissioner of banking for Wisconsin, and members of the commission appointed to investigate affairs of the bond company.

The poor of Madison were treated to a $20,000 Christmas by Mr. Arnold last December, when he gave orders to Madison merchants that they should provide persons applying with two tons of coal and whatever food they wished to purchase. Thousands of persons took advantage of his offer.

Nut Got Name From Town
A certain kind of nut grew in profusion in the town of Kastana, in Pontus, Asia Minor. It derived its name from that of the town, and was known in English as Chestnut, in Russian as Kastan, in Bulgarian as Kastan, in Italian as castanus, in French as chataigne. All it will be noticed, are variations of the name of the town. —Bangor Independent.

CORTLEY JUNIOR

Boys' clothes with snap and wear

At every point of hardest wear an invisible "patch"

SLEEVES strained and "out" at the elbows—knickerbockers worn by sliding on banisters and cellar doors. No single thickness of the finest all-wool material can stand that sort of wear.

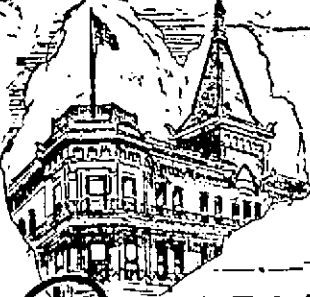

That is why Cortley Jr. Clothes have double thicknesses at the "danger points"—elbows, knees, the trousers' seat.

Made throughout of the sturdiest goods, and with these extra layers at the five points of greatest wear, Cortley Jr. Clothes are made to give consistently long service. It is never necessary to throw a Cortley suit away because one or two spots have broken through. Every part of each garment is adapted in wear to every other.

The whole suit not only has the snap and style that the boy appreciates, but also the manly, up-standing appearance that mothers look for.

The printed guarantee in the pocket of every Cortley Jr. suit is your assurance of satisfaction.

W. Agricultural Professor Declares for Greater Di- versity of Crops

MADISON, Wis.—The farmers of Wisconsin should aim to produce a varied crop during 1922, K. L. Hatch, professor of agricultural education at the college of agriculture, states in a statement Friday. He suggests that no important income sources should be abandoned, producing lines should be diversified, and that while new crops may be introduced, on the whole, production should be neither expanded or contracted.

"If diversified agriculture was over justified—and it has fully proved its value in the past two years—it is justified right now," Professor Hatch declared. "The greatest insurance of further safety to the farm income is more diversification."

"On many Wisconsin farms dairy products have come to be the only source of income. This is little better than the single crop system, and even dairying should be diversified. Hogs and poultry fit in well with dairying and may easily be made important sources of income."

"Many farmers have lost sight of cash crops as possible sources of income. Dairying discourages such production, yet tobacco, potatoes, peas, seed grains and even legume hay may be made to yield some additional revenue."

"The choice will depend, of course, upon what the farmer is in a position to produce and market to advantage, but dairy farmers should have something besides milk to sell, because they have much to buy. Otherwise, dairy farming is not, strictly speaking, diversified farming."

"The present price of fruit is encouraging to the farmer who is willing to spend a little time on pruning and spraying and it may easily prove to be the most profitable time that he spends. In these times of uncertain prices, every little helps and the farmer who has a large number of sources of income has the best chance."

Just How Queer He Was
The colored cook of the household had a "gentleman friend" who impressed the family as peculiar. "Sallie," one of them remarked to her "Rastus is a queer sort of fellow, isn't he?"
"Yassum, Miss Dora; he shore is," Sallie admitted, shaking her head. "Why," she burst out, "dat dar man, he'd radder work dan git married!"

MULES TOO ENJOYING THEIR VACATION FROM WORK IN THE MINES

Beasts of Burden Brought In to the Daylight for First Time in Many Years

WILKESBARRE, Pa.—One hundred and fifty-five thousand idle mine workers in the anthracite fields of Pennsylvania are not alone in enjoying the holiday brought about by the suspension order. The mine mules many of which had not seen daylight for years, also are enjoying it. And, if the cavers they cut about their enclosures are to be taken as reflections of their feeling they are even more joyful than the miners.

Certainly these humble beasts of burden are not worrying about the probable length of the suspension for everything has been done for their comfort. Thousands of them were brought from the dark levels in boarded enclosures. To watch them romping about, kicking and biting at each other good naturedly, was evidence enough that they welcomed the change again to get into the sunshine and air, free from coal gases. But there was even stronger evidence that the mules disliked their gloomy subterranean existence when an effort was made to lead or drive them toward a mine opening. Invariably, there was rebellion.

It is in the deep recesses of the mines where trolley lines cannot penetrate or where the sparks from electric wires might cause gas explosions that the mules are employed. After once taken into the inner workings they are never removed except in cases of strike or other trouble. Their average life underground is about fifteen years.

For land's sake, help the farmer.

OLIVIA STONE IS FREED OF MURDER CHARGE BY JURY

Nurse Declares She's Going Back to Work and Try to Forget Her "Terrible Experience"

NEW YORK—Olivia M. P. Stone, nurse, acquitted Thursday night by a jury in Brooklyn supreme court of the murder of Ellis G. Kinkead, former corporation counsel of Cincinnati, said Friday that she would go back to her work and attempt to forget her "terrible experiences."

"I intend," she added, "to join my friends and go back to my profession as soon as possible. In work I may forget."

Miss Stone shot and killed Kinkead in South Elliott Place, Brooklyn, late in the afternoon of August 5, 1921. Tried on an indictment for first degree murder, her defense was temporary insanity, emotional insanity, also termed "brain explosion," a mental condition predicted on acts of the slain man.

The nurse testified that the lawyer induced her to become his common law wife.

"OBEY" IN MARRIAGE SERVICE ANTIQUATED SAYS CLERGYMAN

Member of Commission to Revise Ceremony Explains Reasons for Change

SAN FRANCISCO—Edward L. Parsons, a bishop of the Protestant Episcopal church and one of the members of the commission to revise the book of common prayer, said Friday the reason it is proposed to omit the "obey" from the marriage ceremony is because it is "antiquated."

"The promise to obey is antiquated and we have outgrown it," he said. "The proper basis in marriage is a mutual basis and not a basis of authority of one over the other. The old idea of the husband ruling the wife is obsolete and should have no part in the marriage service."

Best Cough Mixture Is Home Made

Acts With Speed—Loosens the Phlegm—Stops the Irritation and Coughing Closes

Fine for Chest Colds Too and Is Cheaply Made at Home

When you can make, in two minutes a world beating remedy that acts directly on the membrane and often over-night causes stubborn coughs and even hard chest colds to disappear, why waste time with things that will probably disappoint?

Harshing and snuffing and also soreness of the mucous membrane go and you will feel that in almost no time. Just get one ounce of Eucalypti (double strength) add to it a little sugar and enough hot water to make a half pint and you've got an inexpensive remedy better than you can buy ready mixed.

Its soothing, healing action on the membrane is the reason so many people use it for Catarrh and acute nasal colds.

The Truth About Eczema and Piles

Thousands and thousands of people, says Peterson of Buffalo, are leaving every week that one 25 cent box of Peterson's Ointment will abolish eczema and hemorrhoids, and the grateful letters I receive every day are worth more to me than money.

"I had eczema for many years on my head and could not get anything to stop the aching. I saw your ad and got one box and I owe you many thanks for the good it has done me. There isn't a blotch on my head now and I couldn't help but thank Peterson, for the cure is great." Miss Mary Hill, 420 Third Avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa.

"I have had itching piles for 15 years and Peterson's is the only ointment that relieves me," besides the piles seem to have gone." A. B. Ringer, 315 Washington Avenue, Racine, Wis. STATE SURVEY SHOWS WOMEN TAKING IMPORTANT PART IN THE AFFAIRS OF GOVERNMENT

MADISON, Wis.—That women of Wisconsin were playing an important part in the affairs of government even before the passage of the suffrage amendment is shown by a compilation which has just been made by the Wisconsin Reference Library. In practically all activities women of the state are interested.

Important state governmental positions held by women are:

Miss Lillian L. Chloupek, Manitowish public school retirement board. Mrs. Mary Severy, Milwaukee, normal school retirement board. Elizabeth McCormick, Superior, annuity board. Mand S. Hopper, Janesville, state bureau care of blind. Mrs. Elizabeth Kading, Watertown, civil service commission. Miss Ellen Sabin, Milwaukee, state board of education. Miss Lillian Schenck, Shipley, state fair advisory board.

Mrs. Fred Hansen, River Falls, state fair advisory board. Miss Zona Gale, Portage, free library commission.

May L. Luchsing, Monroe, board of managers, Wisconsin Veterans' Home.

Mrs. Mand Otjen, Viroqua, state board of control.

Clara T. Runge, Baraboo, regents normal schools.

Fern Scott, Eagle River, county officers and judges.

Many in School Positions

In more than half the counties of the state women are acting as county superintendents of schools; in the last election women were placed on the ballot as presidential electors by all political parties. In two cities of the state women have been elected to the common council. Jeanie S. Dunn is county treasurer, Columbia county; town of Portage, and Lucile Trier is county treasurer, Iron county. Horler, Miss Helen Ohm, Wausau, was recently elected to fill a vacancy as alderwoman and Miss Josephine Herian, Two Rivers, is alderwoman in that city.

The women county superintendents of schools are:

Adams, Mary Freary; Barron, Regina Kohten; Bayfield, Jessie N. Smith; Burnett, Anna Ross; Chippewa, Anna Johnson; Columbia, Laura B. Jamieson; Door, Katherine Conley; Douglas, Vera C. Reinstrand; Eau Claire, Lilla E. Johnson; Florence, Grace W. Kinnear; Iron, Ida B. Bradley; Jackson, Mae E. Hardie; Juneau, Leah L. Diehl; La Crosse, Blanche J. Chamberlain; Langlade, Bertha Moss; Manitowish, Lillian L. Chloupek; Marinette, Gertrude Schwitay; Monroe, Harriet Hinton; Oneida, Martha Johnson; Outagamie, Florence S. Jenkins; Pepin, Cynthia Carlisle; Polk, Evelyn Weed; Portage, Alice M. Gordon; Price, Mrs. Ida Ehle; Racine, Edith McChesron; Saut, Jessie C. Murray; Sawyer, Josephine Grafton; Taylor, Emma M. Lupinsky; Trempealeau, Helen M. Berg; Walworth, Helen Martin; Washburn, Lucy A. Leonard; Wood, Ruth C. Bennett.

Presidential Electors

The first women of the state to be named as presidential electors were: Mrs. Al C. Anderson, republican; Mrs. Frank Hilger, socialist; Mrs. E. T. Meims, socialist; Lily Shinnin, prohibitionist; Mrs. John E. Sims, socialist; Mrs. A. B. Smith, prohibitionist; Mrs. A. THEIR FAREWELL MEETING

The young man on the train, observing that the handsome girl across the aisle was looking at him very intently, thought he had made an impression and in a few moments he changed his seat to the vacant one beside her. "Haven't we met before somewhere?" he ventured to ask. "Well, I'm not quite sure," she replied, "but I think you are the man I saw hanging around the night our automobile was stolen." The young man vanished into the smoking car, amid the snickers of those who had overheard them. — Boston Transcript.

The Jewett Is Here

The Price Is $1065

The New Jewett Light Six is now on exhibition in our show rooms.

To you, and everyone who is interested in motor cars, we extend a very cordial invitation to see this car and arrange for a demonstration.

And we do not hesitate to say in advance that you are going to be surprised, delighted and not a little mystified.

You are going to be surprised because the Jewett is all that you have imagined—and a great deal more.

You are going to be delighted because it is the very car that you have hoped for—and waited for—these many years.

You are going to be mystified because you will, for the first time, view a fine quality six at the price of a four.

To produce this car and sell it for $1065, f. o. b. Detroit has required years of study and all the ingenuity and resources of the Paige Engineering staff.

It would have been a simple matter to compromise on four cylinder construction and thus achieve a popular price. But mere price was not the aim and the Four can no longer be considered in terms of fine engineering.

This is the day of six cylinders because the six is an inherently balanced mechanism. The natural balance and overlapping power impulses mean, smooth, even, vibrationless riding qualities.

These, in turn, mean maximum economy because friction and vibration are the chief destructive agents in mechanics.

You have only to ride in the best four that was ever built to realize its fundamental imperfections.

The Four must "fight" to get under way. It delivers a series of vicious, stabbing blows on the crank shaft. In consequence, the entire car throbs and vibrates like a tuning fork.

How long, do you imagine, can any mechanism remain staunch and tight under such punishment?

Fours will "run," of course. But how do they run? And how much genuine satisfaction is there in the running?

Is it a nerve-racking chug-chug-chug or the soft, thrilling purr of overlapping impulses.

For these reasons, and many others, the New Jewett is a six with a mighty reservoir of fifty horse power.

It will sweep you over the road at sixty miles per hour, if you like, or amble along at three. And, at either pace, you will travel as sensible people want to travel—easily, smoothly, quietly.

In spite of its amazingly low price, the Jewett is a car of rare beauty, finish and appointment. It is a stinging rebuke to the common place designs of the popular priced field.

Best of all it is built as all Paige products are built to serve you faithfully and with deep respect for your pocket book.

But come in and see the Jewett for yourself. Come prepared to ride with us. For that is the one way that you can experience the thrill of commanding a fifty horse power six cylinder motor.

That is the one way that you can actually know and appreciate the Jewett.

SOX GET SMEARED UP IN GREAT SHAPE BY THE GIANTS, 13-3

Half Activities Confined to Second Inning When New York Scores Seven Runs

BRISTOL, Tenn.—What happened to the White Sox Thursday night good reading for New York fans but not for Chicago. The Giants simply smeared themselves all over the place and at the finish it was estimated that the Gleason gang was trounced 13 to 3.

About half the afternoon's activity was concentrated in the second inning when seven Giants cluttered across the plate due to the combined ineffectiveness of Charles Robertson on the mound and Sam Yarnan behind the log. The latter gave an exhibition of how not to catch just when the side was almost retired, and when Robertson observed the enemy running bases wildly without being molested he simply blew up.

Robertson an Aviator

After the second Robertson regained his bearings and pitched three good chapters. Then he went soaring some more and some healthy wind-ups added three runs. Then Jim Jam Russell was called forth, but his southern offerings held no deception for the champions, and three additional tallies were shaved across in the two closing innings. Altogether the Giants feasted to the extent of sixteen hits.

The Sox themselves weren't exactly helpless on offense, but of course had no chance to catch the enemy after the second round disturbance. They were stopped completely by Cecil Algonon Causey for three innings, and then two runs resulted on singles by Collins and Hooper and a double by Strout.

Busber Gets Double

The only other happening of consequence was in the seventh, when Busber got a lucky double to center and scored when Bub Falk pitched a single in place of Robertson. Pat Shea pitched the last two frames.

The teams departed tonight for Norfolk, Va., where they play tomorrow. Eddie Mulligan left the Sox at Knoxville and started for Chicago. He has been slow in recovering from an attack of the flu.

NEGATIVE ON BONUS BILL WINS IN A DEBATE AT HIGH

The Lincoln Douglas Debating society had its weekly meeting. A very good program was presented and many enthusiastic visitors were there to enjoy it.

The first number on the program was a selection by a quartet composed of Harrier, Hale, Homestead and Larson. No, they didn't all leave. Next came two impromptu speeches—one by Emmert on "Doing What You Don't Like to Do," and a splendid talk by Peterson on Robert M. La Follette.

One of the features of the evening was the oration delivered by Lawrence Nangle, namely, "The Supposed Speech of John Adams." Everyone, especially the visitors, admired his marvelous voice and wonderful control.

The debate for the evening was "Resolved, that a federal compensation for war veterans is desirable." The affirmative was upheld by Sagen and Cameron, the negative by Nezhur and Johnson. The affirmative's points in proving that the bonus is desirable were based on the following: first, it is needed; second, it is a moral obligation on the part of the government; and third, it can be accomplished by using excess profits tax. The negative maintained that the bonus is not desirable for, 1, the financial condition of the country does not warrant it; 2, it will pave the way for political corruption; 3, the soldiers do not deserve more than they are now getting; 4, it is inefficient, slight compensation, schooling, and the glory of combat. Sagen, rebutting the last point of negative, said: "Yes, glory, they can get it, sleep it, drink it, and obtain shelter from it." The decision of the judge was close, 2 to 1 in favor of the negative.

The L. P. D. S. holds its meetings every Friday night at 7:15. Every one is cordially invited to come. A good program is always arranged and carried out in effective manner. Tonight will be the initiation of new members.

AGED CLAMFISHERMAN DROWNS AT DUBUQUE

DUBUQUE, Iowa.—Fred Graup, 75, was drowned in the Mississippi river near Prairie du Chien late Thursday. Graup, who was a clamfisher on the Upper river for half a century, was gathering driftwood from a saw when he lost his balance and fell in. The body was not recovered. He is survived by two sons and six daughters.

MAY USE KENTUCKY TOBACCO GROWERS METHODS IN STATE

MADISON, Wis.—Investigation of the Kentucky tobacco marketing organization is to be made next week by L. C. Foster, deputy commissioner of markets for Wisconsin, to determine what features of the growers' organization in that state may be used by the Wisconsin Tobacco farmers.

Details preceding organization work of the northern Wisconsin tobacco pool, put under way here last week, are being worked out in the counties. Campaign for members will commence within a short time, it is announced.

Attempt is to be made to contract 75 per cent of the average of the 1922 crop, and if contracts for this amount are signed by growers before June 1, the pool will undertake to market this year's tobacco.

SEVERAL PLAYERS OF LEAGUE CALIBER FROM COAL FIELDS

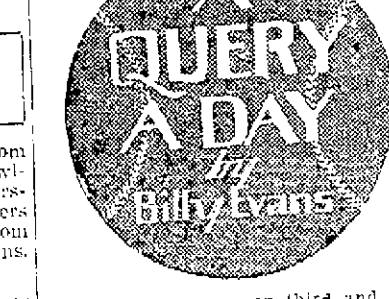

Baseball Played Every Day by Miners Since Strike is in Effect

WILKESBARRE, Pa.—Anthracite coal fields of Pennsylvania in the past have given to the big leagues many star baseball players and it is a good hunch that others will develop in the present enforced holiday. Should history of previous suspensions since 1880 repeat there is no doubt about it.

Between 1880 and 1890 the hard coal fields turned out such baseball players as John (Doc) Freeman, whose home run record stood for twenty years; Hughie Jennings, for twenty years; and now McCraw's able lieutenant, and now New York Giants; Billy Goeckel, former star first baseman of the Philadelphia Nationals; Edward Walsh, former member of the Chicago Americans and numerous others.

Almost anywhere in the Wyoming valley it is possible on Sunday to find a baseball game with several thousands of spectators and in which the coaching and rooting is done in a foreign tongue. The game is looked upon in the region as a powerful factor in Americanization.

Since the strike every day is Sunday insofar as baseball is concerned.

There is a runner on third and one out. The batter hits a fly ball to left center. Both left and center fielders start after the ball. The left fielder tried to make a catch in his gloved hand. He deflects the ball, which falls to the center fielder. When can the runner on third start for the plate? Must he wait until the play is actually completed or can he start the moment the ball strikes the glove of the left fielder?

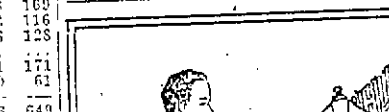

The runner had a right to start for the plate the moment the ball strikes the hands of the fielder. He need not wait until the catch is actually completed.

BANK RECORDS IN SMALL CASE "BURNED BY JANITOR" AND THE JANITOR IS DEAD

WATKIN, Ill.—Amazing revelation of how important records of transactions involving Gov. Len Small, Fred E. Sterling, and Vernon S. Curran have disappeared from the Grant Park Trust and Savings bank at Grant Park, Ill., and from Gov. Small's bank, the First Trust and Savings of Kankakee, came late Thursday in Judge Edwards' court. Officials of the institutions were examined by Assistant Attorney General James H. Wilkerson.

Says Janitor Burns Records.

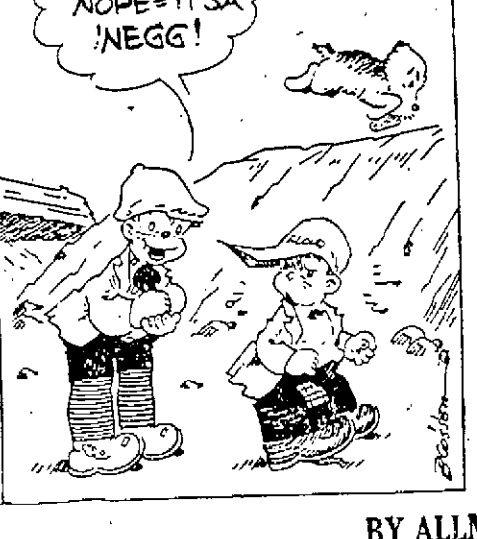

How nearly all the very papers and documents demanded by the state as evidence, many of them of the character that banks are required by law to keep as permanent records, were burned in a furnace by a janitor in the basement of the Grant Park Trust and Savings bank was calmly described by Norman Griffin, cashier of that institution. He then added that the janitor is dead.

A little while before, Louis E. Beckman, cashier of Gov. Small's bank, confessed he knew practically nothing about how the records were kept at that institution and declared he had been able to find no trace of the governor's account at the bank prior to November 1921.

OVER TWO HUNDRED THOUSAND CARS ARE LICENSED IN STATE

Almost as Many Automobiles Being Purchased this Year as Last

MADISON, Wis.—Almost as many automobiles are being purchased by persons in Wisconsin this year as last, judging by reports made by dealers. Blumer S. Hall, secretary of state, says: "Thousands of cars are being bought in the state this spring."

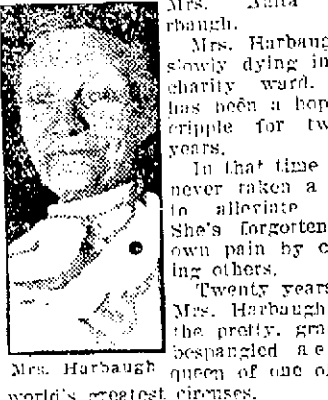

Up to the present time 208,000 pleasure automobiles have been licensed by the state, with a return of $2,030,000. It is expected that the total registrations for this year will exceed 350,000, exclusive of trucks.

With the opening of spring the application for licenses are being received in increasing numbers. About 3,000 plates are sent out daily at the present time, with the number expected to increase later in the month.

The number of trucks is not expected to be greater this year than it was last, because of business conditions.

UNUSUAL STORIES ABOUT UNUSUAL PEOPLE

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—"The most cheerful patient we've ever had!" That's how physicians and nurses at St. Joseph's hospital here describe Mrs. Anita Harbaugh.

Mrs. Harbaugh is slowly dying in the charity ward. She has been a hopeless cripple for twenty years.

In that time she's never taken a drug to alleviate pain. She's forgotten her own pain by cheering others.

Twenty years ago Mrs. Harbaugh was the pretty, graceful, accomplished aerial queen of one of the world's greatest circuses.

One day on a trapeze she lost her hold and crashed to the ground. She has been paralyzed ever since.

"EASTERN TOURISTS" UNABLE TO FOOL BRINDLEY WITH A STORY OF AUTO RIDE FROM THE TWIN CITIES

They're riding in style when they hit La Crosse, are the knights of the open road and great outdoors, or at least they claim they are.

Two travelers, Harry Dykstra and James Brady, one hails from Boston and the other New York, were arrested by Ed Behm, sergeant of the special police of the Burlington, on Monday on a charge of trespassing. They were wandering around the Burlington figur of way. When arraigned in county court they pleaded not guilty and their hearings were set for Thursday afternoon.

They admitted they were "tourists" but asserted that they did not steal a ride to La Crosse on a Burlington train, but were given a ride here by motorists.

"What were some of the towns you rode through?" asked Judge Brindley.

"Well, I don't know this country very well, but I remember arriving in Winona," said one.

"What was the next town you reached?"

"The next place we saw was Rochester."

"And the next?"

"Let me see, I think it was Stockholm."

"Ten days each in the county jail," rejoined the court.

LOW MENTALITY IS OVER-RATED AS A SOURCE OF CRIME

Crime Reflection of Character
Rather than Mentality is Claim

CHICAGO, Ill.—The importance of feeble-mindedness as a source of crime has been overrated, according to the committee on origin of crime of the Chicago Crime Commission. Intelligence tests similar to those used in the army are declared by the committee to indicate that the level of intelligence among first offenders is not greatly different from that which prevailed among drafted men during the world war.

Holding that "crime is a reflection of character" rather than of mentality, the committee recommends recommendations that as a preventive club for boys and girls, supervised by leaders "who are most capable of understanding youth," be distributed in regions where they are needed.

The committee also finds that offenders who have been imprisoned four or five times compose "one third of the total prison population." It recommends an act "herby one who has been four or more times convicted and sentenced, for any misdemeanor even, may be committed from one to three years," and the commitment of mental defectiveness among such repeaters to appropriate institutions.

It Surely Would Be

A man and a girl of eight years were traveling on an express train and he was trying to while away the tedium of the journey by asking her all kinds of funny and ridiculous questions. Finally he suggested this one: "If the clock strikes thirteen, what time is it?"

The little girl hesitated, thought a moment and then replied in an amusingly positive manner: "Time to fix the clock."—Ladies Home Journal.

"HOWDY" WILCOX TRAINS DURING WINTER

"Howdy" Wilcox and mechanic in his Peugeot

"Howdy" Wilcox is generally favored to win the 500-mile race to be held over the Indianapolis Motor Speedway on May 30.

Wilcox will drive a Peugeot. It is a descendant of the car with which he annexed the international classic in 1913.

This was very gratifying to the home folks, as Wilcox is an Indianapolis product.

If Wilcox fails to win it will not be due to lack of effort. He is training himself and his car for the race in a most thorough manner.

Every day through the winter Wilcox has given his Peugeot a stiff workout. Dressed in winter raiment that would make an Eskimo warm with envy, he defies the elements.

Certainly no driver knows the track better than Wilcox. He drives his car at a record-breaking speed over an ice-covered track that would put fear in the heart of the most courageous civilian driver.

Wilcox explains his winter work thusly: "These Peugeots have been blowing up on me in the last two races. This year I am going to have this baby so fast and solid that she will stand up the entire race without a stop for repairs. If it fails me I'll never enter it again."

Wilcox has been doing a lot of work on his car at the Allison Experimental Laboratory. After every change he gives the car a number of stiff workouts to see what are the results.

Wilcox looks fit. Says he never felt better in his life. "I am trying to get the car in as good shape as I am," says Howdy, "and if I do the old first prize is mine."

Old Maids and Bachelors

A bachelor may be legal, but there is always something funny about him. In the case of the old maid, there is always the possible excuse that her lover died; but if a man wanted to get married, he wouldn't pay any attention to a thing like that.—Howe's Monthly.

Read this Health Message at once! Know what Nature's Food can do for you!

Every man, woman and child addicted to pills and cathartics for constipation should know that Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, will give permanent relief naturally if they will eat it regularly! Pills and cathartics can never do more than give temporary relief, and at the same time they aggravate the delicate intestinal pathway and pave the way for graver disorders.

Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is simply nature's food, and made delicious and appetizing by the Kellogg process. Eat it as a very appetizing cereal or sprinkle it on your favorite cereal or on other food. Your physician will endorse the consistent use of bran for constipation. We guarantee that Kellogg's Bran will give permanent relief to every sufferer from constipation if at least two tablespoonsful are eaten each day. For chronic cases, eat as much as is necessary.

Kellogg's Bran sweeps and cleanses without discomfort. Its natural mechanical action is wonderful. Nine-tenths of all human ailments would be eliminated and there would be a new and better race of people if bran was universally eaten daily.

Kellogg's Bran can be used in many delightful foods such as bran bread, pancakes (the best you ever ate), macaroons, etc. See recipes on each package. Buy it at your grocer's.

P. S.—Kellogg's Bran will clear up a pimply complexion and free the breath from obnoxious intestinal odors!

BEGIN "GOING" AND KEEP ON

It isn't a good thing to see everything. Make "this one thing I do" your motto and keep on going. A few extra criticisms will only smart you up a little and supply the grit that keeps folks going.

And hearing everything won't help you to advance, either. Suppose folks do complain. Remember, they wouldn't feel happy if they didn't have something to whine about. Let them whine. You're too busy to do anything but to keep on going.

If you're ever going to lead, you must start going now. Every fellow is going to wear the blue ribbon one of these days. To excel, you must begin as a youth to make good. Old age prodigies are scarcer than hen's teeth.

The habit of success will spare you many a heart-ache. Thoughts of failure are the best means of insuring it. Vision that sees only life's promise, and will that thinks only in terms of victory, rises from what threatens defeat able to cope with any circumstance. It keeps on going.—Grit.

The Bonus Bill In "No Man's Land"

Over the top went the soldiers' bonus when the Fordney Bill, which proposes "adjusted service certificates" (really bonds on which the ex-service men would be expected to borrow money at the banks if they should want the cash inside of three years), was overwhelmingly adopted by the House of Representatives. But, to paraphrase recent Washington dispatches in the military language appropriate to the topic, this would seem to be the beginning rather than the end of the real battle. Over the top, yes, but there is a long, dangerous, toilsome advance before the objectives can be reached and taken. Both Senate and President must be won, and in the meantime the bonus is out in the open, in "No Man's Land," subjected to a long-range barrage of editorial criticism, the heavy artillery of Senatorial opposition, the machine-gun fire of committee-room and conference discussion, and all the barbed-wire entanglements of parliamentary amendments and obstruction, to say nothing of purely political pitfalls and shell-holes. Will the final objectives ever be reached?

Service men, according to John Thomas Taylor, legislative agent of the American Legion, expect that "the bonus bill will pass and become a law." Republican leaders in the House are quoted in the New York Times (Dem.) as being confident that the bill will be "accepted by the Senate without essential change before the middle of April." The Brooklyn Eagle (Dem.), New York Evening Mail (Rep.), and New Haven Journal Courier (Ind.), which are against the bonus, agree with the Manchester Union (Rep.), which is for it, that the Senate is more likely to adopt the bill as it came from the House than to reject it. On the other hand, Mr. Lewis Seibold, of the New York Herald, declares that "if a vote were taken in the Senate Finance Committee today the Fordney scheme would be beaten." The New York Evening Post (Ind.) concludes editorially that "it is no more to be expected that the Senate will give the bonus bill a moment's serious consideration than that President Harding will remove Mellon and make Fordney Secretary of the Treasury." Mr. Heart's New York American, which is a zealous advocate of bonus legislation on general principles, does not believe that the Fordney bill, as it stands, can possibly pass the Senate.

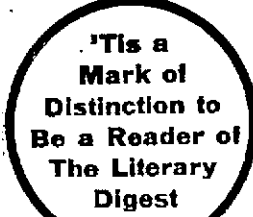

The feature-article in THE LITERARY DIGEST this week, April 8th, gives a resume of the varying opinions of the press on the possibilities and impossibilities of the passage of the Fordney Bonus Bill.

CANADIAN CHURCH HAS NEW VERSION OF PRAYER BOOK

MONTREAL.—Anglican churches in Canada will use new prayer books Easter Sunday, taking the place of one compiled in the reign of James I of England. A committee of the Anglican church in Canada has been at work seven years revising the prayer book.

The new volume, according to Bishop Partridge, is free of "obsolete and archaic words and references, adapts the service to the changed conditions of the age and enriches the prayer book by additions to suit the temper of today."

One effect of the changes, according to churchmen, is that services may now be shorter.

The marriage service remains substantially unchanged. The woman still promises to obey.

This issue is to secure funds which have been expended to pay for additions and extensions of service.

SPLendid PICTURES IN THE ART EXHIBIT

Do you have $6,000 that is making the smoke come from your pocket? Bring it around to the art exhibit and put it up beside that wonderful painting, "The Taker," painted by Walker, and see which you would rather have. I expect a shoemaker or would say that it is pointed in tan colors. But it is really a wonderful symphony in soft grass, painted with vigor, yet making a whole of most charming harmony. What is the old wood chopper thinking about, as he sits on a block, with his axe, apparently keen and sharp, between his knees, with a long pile of wood in front of him? I do not know. Possibly how to get a drink of moonshine—but more likely whether his day's earnings will buy his baby a good warm pair of stockings. The artist has very successfully portrayed the wood chopper in an attitude of repose, with the tools and materials of his occupation all around him, the more attitude of itself suggesting a thinking man. The composition is fine, the elements of composition well placed for a quiet balance of parts, the distance is well worked out—everything in the picture is well worth long and careful study. It may be that after sufficient study to comprehend the picture, you would a little rather leave your money and take the picture home with you. At any rate it will not cost you anything to go over to the exhibit and make the study. I imagine that almost every mother will think the best thing in the exhibit is "The Taker" by E. M. Walcott. It pictures a mother, standing on the margin of a hill side overlooking a broad expanse of sea, and clouds, that in contrast with her figure and the little one she holds in her arms, is almost pure white, broken sufficiently with gray to indicate the sea and clouds. The figures are placed a little to one side of the canvas, the almost white space, very large on the canvas, is broken by a scarf that a breeze is blowing out, toward the edge of the picture. But these are the more accessories. The beautiful, tender expression on the face of the mother, turned toward the little child, is of itself a marvel of the pictorial art. The child is held somewhat in front of the woman. If I am a man, I will say that the child is a darling, and one of the best examples of child painting I have ever seen. There a number of children in the exhibit.

It was my good fortune to attend last evening a "preview" in the gallery, and I was one of the early comers. That gave me the opportunity to see the groups of astonishment and pleasure that came from many of the visitors as the splendor of the exhibit burst upon them at their first entrance to the room. Certainly, the anticipation that this exhibit would be the best that has ever been brought to La Crosse is abundantly verified by the exhibit itself.

The exhibit will be open every afternoon, and every one is urged to come in and see it. Let your friends know how mightily it impresses you. C. W. DICKINSON.

"HOBO" TITLE MAKES WANDERING WORKER MAD SAYS CHIEF

Brakebeam Tourists also Would Do Something About Vagrancy Laws

COLUMBUS, O.—The appellation "hobo," and vagrancy laws in vogue throughout the country are principal topics of discussion at the national convention of the migratory workers' union, in session here.

"We detest the appellation 'hobo' and we resent prevailing vagrancy laws and the entire union membership is behind a propaganda campaign to correct these defects," John Kelley of Chicago, national secretary declared today.

Many delegates at the convention failed to arrive yesterday for the opening session, the reason being explained by one delegate as follows: "We don't vote expenses to a delegate. We choose him and let him get to the convention the best way he can. Usually he chooses the side door Pullman or blind baggage. Either way he is liable to be detained before he reaches his destination."

Members insist they are no hoboes. "We are out of work lots of times, and we ride the 'rattlers' but we always work when we can find it. The membership is composed of men who do 'rough labor'."

SLIDES OF EARTH REPORTED FROM 2 WESTERN STATES

Ten-acre Section Moving Down Mountain Side at Los Angeles; Washington Has Slide

LOS ANGELES, Calif.—A landslide about ten acres in area is moving down a mountain-side near the head of Topanga canyon, about twenty miles from here.

Thursday night the mass of earth had moved 600 feet from its original position and the few buildings, fences, trees and a section of a scenic highway upon it all were reported moving with it with no change in their relative positions.

What force loosened the mountain side could only be conjectured but its movement was believed to have begun almost immediately after a truck had passed over that part of the highway.

Big Slide Near Hood River
HOOD RIVER, Ore.—What is believed to be a landslide of considerable proportions is visible on Mount Adams, in Washington, across the Columbia river from here. A large cleft on the west side of the mountain near the summit is growing hourly.

Last Spring a slide left a scar two miles wide and five miles long on the mountain.

FORCED TO CRIME BY UNEMPLOYMENT SAY SERVICE MEN

Two Former Soldiers Arrested in Kenosha Confess to Milwaukee Robbery

KENOSHA, Wis.—Claiming that continued unemployment had forced them to commit robbery, W. H. Tibbets, 24, and D. H. Richards, 23, both former service men of Milwaukee, were arrested here early Friday morning on suspicion and confessed today to stealing $1,100 out of the safe of the Graham Real Estate company of Milwaukee, Wednesday night.

Richards in his confession to Chief Logan of Kenosha and Police officials of Milwaukee, declared he had learned the combination of the safe while employed there months ago. He told Tibbets, who broke into the office and looted the safe.

The men were arrested here at 2 a. m. after they had hired a Milwaukee taxicab to take them to Chicago.

CAMPAIGN EXPENSES WITHIN LIMITS OF LAW REPORTS SHOW

Candidates for Supreme Justice
May Spend $5,000; Circuit
Judges Limited to $2,000

JONES REPORTS AN EXPENDITURE OF NINETEEN HUNDRED DOLLARS

Opponent Spent But Little Over Five Hundred

MADISON, Wis.—Campaign expenditures in the non-partisan political campaigns preceding the judicial elections of Tuesday, April 4, were well under the limitations provided by the state corrupt practices act, returns filed Friday by the various candidates with the secretary of state show.

The election law provides that no obligation shall be incurred in behalf of a judicial candidate in excess of one third of his salary during the first year of office should he be elected.

Special provision of the statutes, however, permits Supreme court candidates for circuit judgeships are limited to $2,000.

Justice Burr W. Jones, Madison, who was re-elected a member of the Supreme court, expended $1,895.94 on his campaign, according to his statement filed with the secretary of state. Of this amount $1,800 was paid to his campaign manager. No contributions were received or obligations incurred.

John C. Kleist, Milwaukee, who opposed Justice Jones as the socialist candidate, expended $508.49, his report shows. Many small contributions were received, and the greatest expenditure was made for printing and circulation of campaign literature. Mr. Kleist campaigned for the most part in Milwaukee county.

In the contest for the circuit judgeship in the third circuit composed of Calumet and Winnebago counties, Judge Wilbur F. Harburt, who was defeated for re-election, expended $1,440.03. The papers filed by Judge Harburt show that he contributed the greater part of this amount.

County Judge Fred Beglinger, Oshkosh, who was elected, according to his statement, spent $857.93. George C. Hume, the third candidate for the position in the third circuit, filed an account showing an expenditure of $194.82. He ran last in the election on Tuesday.

In the thirteenth judicial circuit composed of Dodge, Ozaukee, Washington and Waukesha counties, Judge Charles M. Davidson, who was re-elected, expended $1,277 on his campaign, all of this amount being paid to his campaign manager, County Judge David W. Azenow, who opposed Judge Davidson, spent $661.95 his statement shows.

Judge Michael Kervin in the fourth judicial circuit composed of Manitowish and Sheboygan counties, unopposed for re-election, spent $46.03, the smallest campaign expenditure filed with the secretary of state. The amount was required for printing official notices, as he made no campaign.

Under the Wisconsin corrupt practices act, a United States Senator is allowed to expend 7,500 on his campaign, representative in Congress, $2,500, candidates for governor, for the Supreme court and for the superintendent of schools $5,000. Other state officers may expend $2,000, state senators $400 and assemblymen $150.

State central committees of political parties may make an expenditure in a general election of not to exceed $10,000.

Something Worse

A knight of the road was rejoined by a companion who had been to a farmhouse prospecting.

"What luck?" the waiting one asked.

"Nothin' doin'," the other growled, and added grumblingly: "I don't like this business of askin' for bread and gettin' a stone."

"Aw," the other comforted him philosophically, "aint as bad as askin' fur bread an' gettin' a bulldog."—Ladies' Home Journal.

SALONIKI HAS MORE REFUGEES THAN ANY CITY IN THE WORLD

Forty Thousand from Greece and Macedonia, 20,000 Russians and Many Others Throng City

SALONIKI, March 2.—Saloniki with its 100,000 population and its 90 minutes gives shelter to more refugees than any other city in the world. Crowded within its narrow and shattered walls are 40,000 Greek and Macedonian refugees, 20,000 exiles from Russia, and an uncounted number of fugitives from Armenia, the Caucasus and other oppressed countries.

Most of them have a pitiful existence. A crust of black bread and a cup of watery soup daily is all that keeps them from the grave.

The Greek government has not the means to care properly for this great mass of indigents. All its money is eaten up by the army in Asia Minor. The charity of America plays a large part in the care of the children, of whom there are many thousands. The American Red Cross is trying to alleviate the wretched plight of the little ones.

The heart of Saloniki was destroyed by fire in 1917 and most of the city still is a mass of crumbling walls and rubbish heaps. The water and sewage systems were almost wholly destroyed. There are no hospitals left. Only the well-to-do have homes. The rest of the population live in huts, tents and in the streets. Nearly a dozen mosques have been turned into shelters for the homeless. In front of the altars where incense was wont to send its pungent odor heavenward, the boiling soup-pot and homely brazier now hold sway. Two thousand persons eat, sleep and have their being in a single mosque.

Saloniki is no place for a weakling. The city's streets are packed with pedestrians, merchants, bankers, peddlers, commercial travelers, soldiers, sailors, beggars and money-lenders, who make up a perfect mad-street. This is the busiest part in the East. It is also the richest. Nowhere in Europe is wealth at once so opulent nor poverty so utterly wretched. The visitor has to fight almost for a place on the street. He battles for a foothold on the only streetcar line, he storms the restaurant for food, and he has to appeal to the governor-general for a room.

Suggestion

Richard, age five, had been left at home in the care of one of his aunts for a few days. It appeared to the aunt that Richard usually managed to do just the things that she had forbidden him to do. Finally she mentioned that fact to Richard, only to receive the following reply: "But auntie, I never think of those things till you talk about them, and then it seems to me that I just must do them."—Nonpareil Journal.

Safety First

Mrs. Nulwyed (to husband who has taken one bite of her first cake): You can't eat your cake and have it too. Mr. Nulwyed: A lovely thought, dearest. I believe I prefer to have it—Life.

In The Movies

CHARLES RAY—RIVOLI
Ray at his best in a comedy role is the description of "R. S. V. P." the present first National attraction at the Rivoli Theater. The star, who has won countless laughs as pugilist, barnstormer, country rube, amateur detective and gridiron warrior, repeats his former successes as a struggling artist who prefers his art to money.

It's all good comedy that the star provides from the initial refusal of a thousand dollars from a rich relative to the moment when he divides a dress suit with his chum so that both may put in a appearance at a social function.

Jean Calhoun makes her first appearance as his leading woman and does some effective comedy acting, in addition to presenting an extraordinarily attractive form. The remainder of a competent cast includes Florence Oberle, Harry Myers, Tom McGuire, Robert Grey, William Courtwright and Ida Schumaker. The picture was directed by the star.

PAULINE STARK—MAJESTIC
A vacation in the artist's colony of the Latin quarter of Paris brings a wonderful friendship and great unhappiness to Stannard Dole, an American sculptor, portrayed by Pauline Stark in "Wife Against Wife," which is the current attraction at the Majestic Theater.

For Gabrielle Gautier, a model, falls in love with the handsome Dole, not knowing that he is already married. When Dole returns to America Gabrielle follows him after the death of her father. His wife becomes enraged with jealousy when he credits Gabrielle with being the inspiration in his work. Dole dies from broken heart. His widow still keeps up her hatred of Gabrielle. And when the former model is happily married to a physician she brings about Gabrielle's separation from her husband.

"Wife Against Wife" is a powerful screen drama and it is presented in convincing manner. Pauline Stark is seen in the leading role as Gabrielle and gives a wonderful portrayal.

STRAND FRIDAY AND SATURDAY
Six thousand feet of film, each foot a veritable mountain of interest, each scene crammed with action, each

ISABEL BRONSON PHILLIPS, Bridgeport (Conn.) Lodge No. 289

Three years ago I left Bridgeport, Conn., for Mooseheart with my mother and brother. I thought then that it was the saddest day I had ever spent, and where there were none of the pleasures and comforts of a home and no opportunities for a good education, I never knew how wrong an impression I had had of Mooseheart. A short time after arriving at Mooseheart I was homesick and would have given anything to have gone back home. My mother was finally persuaded to keep my brother and me here and I have never been sorry that I stayed.

Coming as I did on my birthday it was really the best present anyone could have given me. I found that Mooseheart was not an ordinary institution. It was a home and school combined and should be called a School Home.

I had already had one year of High School so I entered the second year of tenth grade. I did not like the idea of changing schools, but the academic course was practically the same as the one I was going to continue, and now I had the opportunity of learning a vocation along with my school work and of choosing the one I wished.

The vocational work for girls consists of two types—domestic training and a business training so that we will be able to go out and earn our own living without having to rely on someone else to provide for us.

Cooking and home-making is perhaps one of the most important courses offered. Classes in this subject have been organized recently and are under the supervision of the district. This course teaches the girl the proper and most profitable way to prepare food of all kinds and how to make out menus so that there will be enough of one food and not too much of another.

The class in home-making is taught how to care for and furnish a home. For instance miniature houses and furniture are made of stiff paper and cardboard and the furniture is arranged as attractively as possible by the girls. The sewing class, which is a part of the course, is very beneficial to the girls, for after they have been in the class for a few months they are able to make most of their clothes. This is a great help to Mooseheart, because it gives the women who sew a chance to make clothes for the smaller children and the boys.

Musical has been splendidly developed at Mooseheart and there are quite a number of the students who show unusual ability in it.

Instruction is given on all kinds of hand and orchestra instruments and also on the piano by well-trained teachers. Very often students play solos at various entertainments and this gives them self-confidence and an opportunity to prove that they are able to do something. We have had the pleasure of hearing some of the best orchestras and musicians in the country and the Mooseheart student is very appreciative of good music which is not always true of boys and girls.

An Industrial Arts class has been started and this department of the school has appealed to a number of the students. Designing is one of the important branches of this course and many beautiful things have been designed and painted.

Stenography is one of the newer vocations that have been started at Mooseheart. This is a two-year course in shorthand and typewriting with a course in office training. Accuracy and speed in both shorthand and typewriting is what we have been striving for. Office training is a very essential thing to the girl who expects to work as a stenographer or any other line of office work. After taking this course a girl is able to go into an office and start as a stenographer or maybe start in at the very bottom as an office girl and work her way up to the position of private secretary.

Girls and women are showing more business and executive ability today than they did ten years ago. It used to be that it was thought that only men were able to do as was to take care of a home, but it has been proved that this is not true. Women are holding responsible positions that used to be held by men entirely. The women's suffrage movement has all over used to be held by men entirely. The women's suffrage movement has all over used to be held by men entirely.

I had always been very much interested in a business office and methods of carrying on business and when the Commercial Department was started I took up the work. At first we had only two or three typewriters and the classes had to be divided but now we have a room filled up like an office with a file for filing all of our papers. Every week we have speed tests to see how much we have improved. For the last four months, outside of my regular school hours, I have been working in the General Office, taking dictation and doing whatever there was to do. This has given me practical experience and will be very helpful to me when I take a position.

This academic and vocational education that Mooseheart has given me will enable me to go out in the world and make my own living and be independent and self-reliant. I expect to go to Boston University to take a Secretarial Course which will enable me to hold a more responsible and better position than I might otherwise be able to hold. I shall work my way through by doing stenographic work outside of school time.

I will never be able to repay Mooseheart for all that it has done for me, but I will show my appreciation by going out and making good and trying to do for others what Mooseheart has done for me.

At the Majestic today and tomorrow.

CANVASSERS MEET TUESDAY TO COUNT JUDICIAL VOTE

MADISON, Wis.—County boards of canvassers met next Tuesday officially to count the votes cast in the spring elections, and to certify the candidates elected to the secretary of state.

In some counties officials met before the regular time scheduled by the statutes to count the ballots. Seventeen days are given in which to make returns to the secretary of state who compiles the official figures.

The final count of votes is not expected to be available until near the end of April. Unofficial returns, however, have established definitely who was elected in each of the contests.

OFFICERS' SCHOOLS TO BE HELD MONTHLY IN 4 BADGER CITIES

Cavalry and Artillery Officers Barred from National Guard Sessions

MADISON, Wis.—Schools for officers of the Wisconsin National Guard, except those attached to the cavalry and artillery, have been arranged to be held monthly at Milwaukee, Oshkosh, Madison and Eau Claire. Colonel Byron T. Beveridge, assistant adjutant general announced Friday.

The schools, to be conducted by Majors M. A. Joyce and H. J. Brooks, army infantry instructors on duty with the Wisconsin guard, will be limited to officers residing within the vicinity of the four cities named. Owing to the distance of the other cities, it was thought impractical to include them.

The following are the cities where officers are authorized to attend:
At Milwaukee: Milwaukee, Racine, Oconomowoc, Beaver Dam, Waukesha, Delavan, Sheboygan, Manitowish, Oshkosh.
At Oshkosh: Oshkosh, Appleton.

SEEKS TO COLLECT INSURANCE ON CAR DAMAGED BY BULL

Disputes Over Collision Policy Carried to Kansas State Department

GO TO THE DICTIONARY FOR DEFINITION OF "COLLISION"

Owner Collects for Damages Inflicted by Fighting Rooster

TOPEKA, Kan.—"Collision—The act of striking together; the striking together of two hard objects; a clashing. Synonyms: clashing, encounter, opposition."—Webster.

Automobile accident insurance being comparatively new, Kansas statutes and court reports are far from replete on enlightenment as to what is and what is not a collision. So the state insurance department, according to Frank L. Travis, state superintendent of insurance, finds it necessary to turn back to fundamentals in determining disputes over the scope of the collision clause in auto insurance policies.

"We have to get out the old dictionary and interpret the law as we see it," said Sam Carol, insurance department attorney.

Two of the most interesting cases that have been carried to the insurance department for a decision were one in which an enraged bull attacked a car painted bright red, and another in which a $4,000 motor car came off second best in a bout with a game cock. In each of these cases the opinion of the insurance department was in favor of the car owner. It was a collision. Likewise, the car owner won in a case involving a "collision" with a rifle bullet which shattered the wind shield.

In still another case, however, it was different. A man drove his car through a puddle of water on a paved street. The icy water splashed up on the heated engine, causing the casing to crack.

"It was a collision with the water," contended the owner.

"No," decided the insurance department officials after due deliberation, "that was a case of the effect—the chemical effect—of cold water coming in contact with the hot engine."

NEWS PICTURES OF HARDING ON VACATION

President Harding, on vacation in Florida, is shown arriving at the St. Augustine, (Fla.) golf links, attired in white flannel trousers and Panama hat. After having enjoyed several games, the president boarded the houseboat of a friend (shown in inset) and cruised southward toward Daytona, Fla., for a combination boating and golfing trip.

The owner of the ill-fated red car made the mistake of going to a cattle sale on a farm, in his car. There were many other automobiles there, but only one red one. Singling it out, a bull broke away from the sales ring and charged the red hood. Again and again he rammed the vehicle with his hornless head until the car resembled a war relic.

The assault by a game rooster provoked by observing his reflection in the highly polished exterior of the brand new car. The owner had just driven the car home for the first time and parked it in the dooryard. The battle evidently had been on for some time before the farmer discovered what was going on. Mr. Rooster circled the vehicle seeking an aperture which would permit him to "get at" his adversary. Naturally enough, the adversary followed. Each time the rooster came in contact with the car he left marks of spurs and beak until the highly polished surface was sadly disfigured.

The insurance company disputed the owner's claim for damages, but following the decision of the insurance department, stood the expense of restoring a perfect exterior finish on the car.

PRINCE OF WALES TO BE KEPT BUSY ON JAPANESE TRIP

British Crown Prince to Spend Nearly a Month in the Flowery Kingdom

LONDON.—The Prince of Wales is to spend nearly a month in Japan and numerous dinner parties, balls and other ceremonies and entertainments have been arranged in his honor.

The program of his stay in the Mikado's empire, as announced here, shows that after arriving in Yokohama on the battleship Benbow, April 12, he will go straight to Tokyo where he will be entertained with dinners at the Japanese foreign office and at the prime minister's official residence. The British embassy in Tokyo and the British colony in Yokohama are planning to give balls to celebrate his visit. After a week in these two cities, the prince will go to Nikko for two days and afterward will visit Oda- wara and Lake Hakone, visiting Yokohama on the way to travel the inter-allied war memorial arch which has been erected by popular subscription on the "Bluff," the foreign residential district.

Later, he will proceed by automobile to Shoji, where he will remain over night and on the following day will go to Iida, whence he will descend the Tenryugawa as far as the railway line where he will take the train for Kyoto. One week will be spent in this ancient capital city of Japan in which the Prince will visit Lake Biwa and the island of Chikubushima.

Next the prince will go to Nara for two days and then to Kobe where he will be entertained by the British colony.

On May 8, he is to sail from Kobe through the Inland Sea possibly stopping at some of its ports, and on May 9, he will leave Japan for Manila where he will spend two days.
